Plombco New President & Director

VALLEYFIELD (Quebec), January 12, 2015 – We are pleased to announce that Martin Lussier is stepping into the role of new President and that our Customer Service team is growing.

Mr. Lussier has been working at Plombco for over 15 years and was previously Vice President, Marketing since 2013. He also has held the position of Vice President, Business Development from 2009 to 2013. He brings a great mix of visionary, industry knowledge, leadership and concern for the job well done. We wish him all success in his new challenges and responsibilities.

Stéphane Bilodeau has recently been appointed to the position of Director, Customer Service. He has over 17 years of experiences with customer relation management. He is looking forward to contributing his knowledge to Plombco. His main goal is to bring the excellent service already provided by Plombco to a new standing. Plombco is pleased to count Mr. Bilodeau, as part of its growing organization.
